Dear Mark:

Although this process took much longer than was initially planned, the finished product is everything Lynne and I hoped it would be. We are extremely pleased with the quality of construction and attention to detail. Everyone who worked on the house can be proud of their contribution.

We plan to live in this house for many years to come. However, if we should ever dare to venture through the home building process again, you would certainly be part of our plans.

Sincerely,

William F. Graham
